

In this issue >>>

As we conclude this academic year in University of Rwanda, the focus is on finalists, equipping and mobilizing them to live missional lives after campus...

JULY 2019

Being the transformation we dream about even outside the campus...

Newsletter

Life After Campus...

From 5th-7th July, in partnership with ACO [Africa Christian Outreach], GBUR organized Life After Campus conference. It brought together 46 finalists from different GBUs. The aim was to prepare and integrate them into graduate ministry, church service and the marketplace.

Testimony of participants..

Cliff Richard from UR-Nyarugenge

"I learned that God is for me even after Campus, in searching for job, and building my career. Through this, God spoke hope into my life. I have also learned that it is okay to have so many passions. I don't have to have everything figured out and I can't. God will clarify certain things along the way. It is a faith journey.

I was also reminded of the fact that to bring godly transformation on the marketplace is all about resolutions. It takes patience, hard working, and commitment. It doesn't always turn out the Way you expected or anticipated, sometimes it even gets you in trouble, I should be prepared for that."

Kevin Rubona from UR-Nyarugenge

"I will not explain in detail. But here is a list some of the truths I heard and changed my life.

I recognised again, to another extent, how I failed to honour God in my studies. But, through what we learned I was encouraged to recognise my failure, accept it, learn from it, and resolve to do better.

I have learned that there is no secular. There is no sacred. I have one life and one aim, to be conformed to Christ. I am praying that God may help me to see work as a place to be salt in the world.

I have also seen the importance of having people around you for accountability.

Concerning church integration, I pray that I will not experience again the lack of wisdom I had at campus. I faced the challenging issues in my integration in GBU.

There is no secular, no sacred. I have one life and one aim; to be conformed to Christ.

My work, an act of worship

This was the theme of the sixth convention of CAMP [Christ Ambassadors in Market Place] It happened on July 1st and brought together about 120 graduates in the market place.

Reflecting on his own take away and how this event would serve the graduate ministry, Shyaka Alex, GBUR graduate ministry coordinator shared: "It was clear that when the leader sets the example integrity becomes the culture of the institution. On this, our panellists have highlighted that it is not something magical. It flows from the person's devotional time.

As someone concerned with how this can help GBUR achieve its vision, while Life After Campus Conference helped finalists for their orientation, CAMP helped those who are already in the workplace to deal with issues in their daily struggles to bring about the Godly transformation we dream of. The two came together perfectly.

Kairos course >>>

Discovering how I can be involved in reaching nations...

This Kairos course happened on 17th -21st July, 32 students from UNIK, Rukara & Nyagatare attended. Many committed to give, pray, and be involved in the great commission.

Joselyne Mugisha

I need to look at my creativity skills as means to reach people. I commit to set apart a specific day to pray for missions. Financially, I commit to support our campus staff on a monthly basis.

Burahima Ben.

While I remain with two more years at the campus, I commit to set apart a specific time to pray for missions and to support our campus staff on a monthly basis.

After carefully consideration, I have also committed to give one year to student ministry at the end of my studies in 2021. Meanwhile, I will be discipling my fellow students. I will work with my friends Virgile and Slyvestre.

Mugisha Wilson

I have resolved to take my studies more seriously. I discovered that the reason why I am studying what I am studying is so that God will use it in one way or another to reach his people. I also need to work on developing character, especially gentleness. From now on people, especially in my family, should know that I am a Christian.

As we conclude!

Special thanks to the whole GBUR staff team, Graduates Committee, CAMP Committee, and the Kairos Committee. None of these could have been possible without your hard work. May God bless you.

Above all, may all the glory and praise be to God almighty in Jesus name. Amen

The ministry continues. Therefore, keep praying, giving and joining in the ministry.
In Christ, the editor.

What's next >>>

GBUR Family fellowship

This is an annual event where graduates come together with their families and friends to celebrate God's faithfulness and to think together about how the Godly transformation we dream of in Church and Society can become a reality in our families first. This year, we will be at Bambino-Kabuga with the theme: UPHOLDING A HEALTHY FAMILY IN THIS BUSY LIFE. Remember to bring your family so that together we can have fun and learn!

Phone: +250 786 030 841

P.o.Box: 1116 Kigali

Kacyiru KG 594 st

Bank accounts:

I&M Bank: 0018523-01-49

KCB: 4400851281

BPR: 408-3332559-11

Cogebank: 130-1058847

BK: 00040-038-0742-50